Dear Parent/Carer

GCSE History Revision Sessions

Due to the increased volume of the GCSE History course, it is essential that revision is started early to enable students to refresh their knowledge on earlier topics. I have, therefore, broken down the remaining weeks before the GCSE exams into key topics; each fortnight will be based on a different theme that students are expected to revise and they will be given a knowledge test at the end of two weeks. The results from these tests will be available on Go4schools so you can keep track of revision preparations. I have attached the document detailing the breakdown of the topics to be studied and all students will be given a copy of this.

Study support sessions for History will restart after Christmas and will focus on the topics listed on the sheet. All students are welcome to attend but will need to bring resources and revision materials for the listed topic that fortnight. The sessions take place on a Wednesday after school from 3.30-4.20 in W6.

Thank you for your continuing support.

Yours sincerely,

L Sollars
